

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An optical encoder that includes an optical grating and a quadrature optical encoder sensor that move relative to each other. The optical grating includes alternating dark and light areas, wherein one or more of the light areas are optically different from other light areas.